

27 New Street, Cawston

£260,000 Freehold

Tucked away in the peaceful village of Cawston, this beautifully presented 18th-century home dates back to 1745 and offers a rare chance to own a piece of Norfolk history. Rich in character and thoughtfully updated, the property is a harmonious blend of heritage detail and modern convenience, set in a quiet residential street within walking distance of local shops, a primary school, and open countryside. Behind its traditional frontage lies a home filled with warmth, originality, and charming period features, making it a perfect retreat for those seeking something unique. Whether you're looking for a full-time residence, a countryside getaway, or a home with holiday let potential, this property offers a wonderful balance of comfort and timeless appeal.

Location

New Street is set in the established village of Cawston, surrounded by scenic countryside yet within easy reach of Norwich. The village offers a well-regarded primary school, a popular pub, a post office, and a community-run café, all within walking distance. Cawston is also well-placed for access to the Georgian market town of Aylsham and the historic Blickling Estate, while the nearby B1145 and A140 provide convenient road links. The area is popular with walkers and cyclists, thanks to its peaceful lanes and proximity to Marriott's Way. It's an ideal setting for those seeking a rural lifestyle with local amenities and strong transport connections.

New Street

Stepping inside, you're welcomed into a warm and inviting atmosphere that immediately speaks to the property's age and character. The kitchen, located at the front of the home, has been custom-built with handmade timber cabinetry and a traditional butler sink that originated from nearby Blickling Hall. It is both practical and steeped in provenance, with open shelving, and rustic worktops.

The kitchen flows into the lounge, a bright, comfortable room with exposed ceiling beams, a feature fireplace, and a unique reclaimed mantle salvaged from a local horse stable, which adds both narrative and warmth to the space.

The staircase leads to the first floor, where two well-proportioned bedrooms await. The principal bedroom includes built-in storage tucked into the eaves, while still offering space for wardrobes or additional furniture. The second bedroom, though slightly smaller, is full of charm and ideal as a guest room, study, or nursery. A tastefully updated three-piece bathroom is also found on this level, complete with a walk-in, tiled flooring, and a clean, contemporary finish that complements the home's overall feel.

Outside, the cottage-style garden provides a tranquil, green escape with a small patio area perfect for seating or potted plants. Mature planting and climbing wisteria bring seasonal colour and texture, adding to the cottage's storybook appeal. The property also benefits from off-road parking for two vehicles, located just beside the house, a valuable and convenient feature in this traditional village setting.
