Entry to the main house is via a wide hallway that immediately sets a sense of space and quality. Wood effect flooring extends underfoot and continues through much of the ground floor, paired with neutral tones and clean detailing. From here, accommodation opens into a large open-plan kitchen, dining, and living area that forms the central hub of the home.

The kitchen is arranged along one side of the room and fitted with shaker-style cabinetry, solid wood work surfaces, and tiled splashbacks in soft neutral shades. Integrated cooking appliances sit beneath a stainless steel extractor, while a window above the sink draws natural light across preparation areas. Recessed spotlights set within the ceiling beam provide both practical illumination and architectural definition, helping to subtly zone the space.

Positioned between the kitchen and the living areas, the dining space offers ample room for a full-sized table without interrupting circulation. Flooring flows seamlessly throughout, reinforcing a cohesive feel. Beyond this, the living area is generously proportioned and arranged around a feature fireplace with a wood-burning stove set on a tiled hearth and framed by a solid timber surround. Light enters from multiple aspects, creating a bright and welcoming environment suited to both everyday use and entertaining.

French doors open from the open plan living space into the conservatory, adding a further reception space finished with durable flooring and full height glazing. French doors from the conservatory lead directly out to the garden, allowing easy movement between indoor and outdoor spaces and making this an adaptable room that can be enjoyed throughout the year. Located just off the kitchen, a notably spacious utility room enhances everyday practicality. Additional work surfaces, integrated storage, and plumbing for appliances are provided, alongside a ground-floor WC and external access, making this area both functional and discreet.

Stairs rise to the first floor, where four well-proportioned double bedrooms are arranged off a central landing. One bedroom includes built-in wardrobes, while the principal bedroom benefits from a dedicated en suite bathroom finished with modern fittings and tiled surfaces. A contemporary family shower room serves the remaining bedrooms, ensuring comfort for larger households.

Separate access leads into the annexe, which offers a substantial and carefully planned living environment that mirrors the quality of the main house while operating entirely independently. Entry opens into a fitted kitchen and dining area, arranged with cabinetry, work surfaces, and integrated cooking facilities to support everyday use. The annexe bathroom is positioned directly off the kitchen and is fitted with a panelled bath with a shower over, WC, and wash basin set within a vanity unit, complemented by tiled surrounds and durable finishes.

Adjoining the kitchen space, a defined lounge provides a relaxed living area, finished with soft carpeting, neutral décor, and well-placed windows that allow natural light to move easily through the room. French doors open from the annexe lounge directly onto the garden, reinforcing the sense of independence and connection to the outdoor space.

Stairs rise to a bright first-floor landing within the annexe, where Velux windows introduce further daylight and enhance the sense of openness. Bedroom accommodation is well proportioned and comfortably arranged for double occupancy, with sloped ceilings adding character while retaining usable floor space.

Outside, the grounds extend across approximately 1/3 acre and have been arranged to make full use of the plot. The enclosed rear garden provides a wide expanse of lawn supported by paved pathways, established planting, and clearly defined seating areas. A large shed offers substantial storage or workspace potential, while a purpose-built garden bar creates an additional social space suited to entertaining and outdoor gatherings. To the front, off-road parking is available alongside access to a garage and further outbuildings, completing a home that offers scale, versatility, and a strong outdoor presence.
