Stepping inside, the bungalow opens into a central hallway finished with soft grey carpet that continues through much of the accommodation, creating a clean and consistent feel. A useful storage cupboard is positioned off the hallway, adding practicality while keeping the space uncluttered. From here, doors lead to all principal rooms, giving the property a straightforward layout.

Positioned at the front of the home, the sitting room is a comfortable and well-proportioned space, centred around a broad window that allows plenty of natural light to fill the room. Neutral wall tones and carpeted flooring provide a blank canvas for furnishing, with ample space for both seating and media furniture.

The kitchen is arranged in a practical galley style. Wood effect wall and base units line the room, paired with marble effect work surfaces and white tiled splashbacks. The flooring changes to dark tiles, offering durability and contrast. There is space for freestanding appliances, along with a stainless steel sink positioned beneath a side window. A part-glazed door opens directly out to the side access, providing convenient access to the rear garden.

All three bedrooms are accessed from the hallway and are finished with carpeted flooring, each offering comfortable double proportions. The main bedroom benefits from built-in wardrobes, while one of the remaining bedrooms provides excellent versatility and could also be used as a dining room or additional sitting room if desired. The third bedroom is equally suited to guest accommodation, home working, or hobby use, each enjoying natural light from rear or side-facing windows.

Outside, the rear garden is enclosed and laid mainly to lawn, offering a clear and adaptable space ready for landscaping to suit individual taste. A concrete pathway leads from the side access to the garage, which provides secure off-road parking as well as useful storage. Additional off-road parking is available to the front of the property on the shingled driveway, with gated side access linking the front and rear.
